

Berufsfachschule für Musik
Oberfranken

You Want to Study Music in Germany?

Studying music in the motherland and mother tongue of immortal composing geniuses such as Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Schumann, Bruckner, Brahms, Wagner and many more is a vivid dream for young musicians all over the world. German music colleges are well known for their thorough and excellent education, and the German Residence Act makes attending their courses possible even for non-EU citizens.

Being part of the Bavarian public school system, we provide a comprehensive music training programme, completely free of charge and even suitable for scholarship, that ideally prepares for the various entrance exams of German music colleges. Moreover our full time programmes in themselves qualify for directing amateur ensembles like choirs, bands and orchestras, for teaching your respective main instrument as an employee of a public music school or for working sideline as a church musician.

So if you are about to finish your public school education and could imagine moving to Germany, you'll find our school in the musically rich vicinity of Bayreuth, Coburg and Bamberg and more information about us on the internet:
